

NEW YORK CRIME WAVE IS STILL ON

Daring Robbery In Murray Hill Hotel Attempted

Guest Gives Battle and Thwarts Robber

(By Associated Press)

New York, December 24.—The hope that New York's crime wave had begun to recede, engendered by an apparent lull in serious outlaws during the last two days, was dashed today when a holdup was staged in the Murray Hill Hotel, on Park Avenue.

A man about five feet four inches tall, apparently a Greek, with a scar across his face, entered a suite on the fourth floor occupied by Robert L. Ireland, a newspaper man.

Aroused from slumber, Mr. Ireland was ordered out of bed by the intruder and told to throw up his hands.

Ignoring the second command, the guest tossed off the sheets, sprang up and made a flying tackle. The robber shook himself loose and a brief struggle followed. Then the intruder fled, and Mr. Ireland gave the alarm.

Smarting under the taunt of another outbreak following on the heels of a sensational holdup at the Hotel Astor last week, the police arrived on the double quick and were posted all around the hotel, in the hope of catching the robber, who, it was thought, might have concealed himself in the building.

Mr. Ireland landed several blows before the robber fled. The guest followed him in his pajamas through the corridors and down four flights of stairs, losing him when the robber made a dive into the basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland had been guests at the hotel, located but a block from the Grand Central Station for about three years. Before his retirement from business, Mr. Ireland, who is 54 years old, was connected with the Mark A. Hanna Company, of Cleveland, and associated with Dan Hanna in ownership of Cleveland newspaper properties.

Business conditions were taken up by the President-elect with Fred Upham, William Wrigley, and Marshall Field, all of Chicago. Mr. Upham who is treasurer of the Republican National Commission also discussed various organization questions left over from the campaign. Others who saw Mr. Harding during the day include Mrs. Harriett Taylor Upton, of Warren, Ohio, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee and Harry M. Daugherty, a member of the Republican campaign committee.

Former President Taft is to come to Marion tomorrow in response to Mr. Harding's invitation to discuss the peace association plans.

MISSISSIPPIAN CLAIMS HIS PIG A REAL SETTER

(By Associated Press)

Natchez, Miss., December 24.—Tucker Jipson, known as the champion big game hunter of Tennessee Parish, Louisiana, claims he owns a pig which he uses in the capacity of a bird dog and asserts the pig makes perfect stands and never flushes a covey of birds.

Mr. Jipson said soon after the birth of the pig, on the death of its mother, it was adopted by a pointer dog with a litter of pups and that the pig continued to associate with its foster brothers and sisters after it became well grown. He declared the hunting proclivities of the pig were accidentally discovered the first time the young dogs were taken to the field, the pig accompanying the party and taking an animated part in the hunt.

The proclamation was in the nature of a Christmas gift to the Dominican people and presaged the withdrawal of American control over the affairs of the West Indian Republic which began over four years ago.

The Admiral announced a commission of representative Dominican citizens soon would be appointed with a technical adviser to be named by President Wilson to formulate amendments to the constitution to revise the laws of the Republic and draft a new election law.

Conference Revives Rumors Of Appointment

Meeting Arranged At Request Of Harding

(By Associated Press)

Marion, O., December 24.—President-elect Harding turned to former President Taft today for counsel on the world peace problem and practical details of organizing the next administration.

The conference was arranged at Mr. Harding's request and is understood to have concerned particularly the proposal for a new international court, in which the former President has been interested for many years.

Mr. Taft was a supporter of the Versailles league, but has taken the attitude some different agency now must be organized to stabilize world conditions.

The coming of Mr. Taft revived speculation about his possible appointment to some high post under the coming administration.

Mrs. Neely testified Tuesday she saw the fatal shots fired.

"I saw McGannon pull something from his pocket. Simultaneously a shot rang out and Kagy lurched forward," she testified.

Monnett Opposes The Act Of Goodyear Officials

(By Associated Press)

Akron, O., December 24.—Stockholders of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. this morning voted to authorize directors to issue $50,000,000 in bonds and then adjourned until December 29th when directors will report on their efforts to sell the issue.

It was understood a group of New York bankers have undertaken to underwrite the issue.

P. A. Selberling, president, said $50,000,000 would be needed in the refinancing and that bonds for that amount would be offered at this time.

Frank S. Monnett, formerly attorney general of Ohio, who recently failed in a suit in Columbus to obtain an accounting of the affairs of the Goodyear Company, led a small group of stockholders in opposing the bond action.

Goodyear officials, however, through use of proxies and their own holdings cast votes for more than 499,000 shares of preferred stock.

McGannon Trial Is Proceeding Slowly.

Defense May Ask For Dying Statement

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., December 24.—The first defense witness to take the stand today in the second degree murder trial of Judge William H. McGannon for slaying Harold C. Kagy, was Detective Charles Cavola, who had been assigned to assist Prosecutor Backin in preparing the state case.

Cavola evidently was called by the defense in an effort to disprove the testimony of Andrew Hall, a state witness who testified Judge McGannon was the "third man" present at the shooting.

It is expected the defense today will attempt to introduce the dying statement of Kagy in which he said John W. Joyce fired the fatal shot.

A jury recently acquitted Joyce of the shooting.

"Greetings"

The year 1920 will long be remembered as one calling upon the best efforts of all to give satisfactory service under abnormal conditions.

That progress was at all possible in our line was due to the patience and co-operation exhibited by our patrons.

Happily some of the chief obstacles that have delayed building are disappearing. There has been a marked reduction in the price of lumber during the last three months. There is also a growing realization that the labor and materials used in building are not consumed in use, but add each year to the permanent wealth of our community and nation.

As we highly value the good will of our patrons, we take this opportunity at the holiday season to express our appreciation of your tolerance of the difficulties under which business was conducted in 1920. It is our hope that our relations with you may long endure—that 1921 will give us better opportunity to demonstrate with service our responsibility to the building public. May you enjoy a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

SIX MONTHS OF SUCCESS FOUNDED ON FAIRNESS

This company owes a debt of gratitude to the people of this vicinity who have so cordially responded to its offer of fair play as shown by the Flexible Plan put into operation July 1.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been deposited with us to help build more homes—and the money has been placed on first mortgage loans of the best security.

6 Per Cent to Depositors

This Flexible Plan gives depositors all the advantage of the increased earning power of their money. The company benefits only by the largely increased volume of its business, but that is enough, for experience has shown that the one per cent difference between what we pay you for the use of your money and what is paid us on mortgage loans is sufficient not only for our expenses, but even enables us to lay aside a substantial reserve.

Therefore it is only fair to you that when your money earns more you should have it. Send it here for deposit and receive six per cent interest each year, payable semi-annually. We lend it all to your advantage as a citizen, for it goes to provide homes for the people.

CITY SCHOOLS HOLD PROGRAMS FOR CHRISTMAS

Holiday Programs Held In Each School Room.

Christmas Finds Study
Rooms Decorated by the Pupils.

All the grades in the city schools held Christmas programs on Thursday afternoon, the last day of school before the holidays.

Cherry Hill, East Side, Sunnyside and Central had arranged special programs of Yuletide character and Christmas carols, recitations, dialogues, and miniature plays made up the entertainments.

Visitors were welcomed in each school and many parents and friends spent the afternoon in the school rooms.

The work of many hands had transplanted the Christmas spirit in each school through beautiful holiday decorations.

Cherry Hill.

Cherry Hill, Miss Corda McCafferty principal, devoted the entire afternoon to the Christmas program. With Miss O'Brien at the piano the grades of the second floor sang Christmas carols while the pupils on the first floor opened the doors and enjoyed them.

Each room had prepared an individual program with dialogues, recitations and songs.

East Side.

At East End, Miss Gertrude Channel, principal, the third, fourth and fifth grades held a union song service with beautiful Christmas carols.

In the fifth grade, Miss Paye Johe teacher, two little plays were given, the parts carried out in excellent manner.

East Side was aglow in each room with the decorations of holiday nature that had been prepared by the pupils.

Sunnyside.

Sunnyside pupils had also prepared a program that bespoke the Christmas spirit in every room and the decorations were especially beautiful and appropriate.

Miss Kerrigan's beginners had their own program and gave it with the success that always attends the efforts of this popular teacher.

Pupils under Miss Rowan, Miss Bush and Miss Woodward were treated by parents. Miss Rowan's children received cute little dolls for the girls and candy and popcorn for the boys.
Miss Hegler, Miss Woodward, Mrs.
McElwain and Mrs. Minnie Browne, the principal, grouped their children
for the program.

Pressing The Limit

We have carried the right of majority rule, here in America during the last decade to extreme limits in government regulation and control of individual conduct, never dreamed of by our forefathers.

And the end is not yet. The well meaning extremists are vehemently urging further encroachments upon the liberties of the individual.

Unquestionably when the exercise of certain "inalienable" rights by individuals become a menace to society or to the government, they must give way and be surrendered in order that the greater liberty of all may be preserved.

Stamping out, by legislation, the drug evil is an illustration of the right of the majority to declare a regulation of individual conduct. Success, however, in the larger and unquestioned field has encouraged "reformers" to demand too much in the way of impressing their individual opinion of right or wrong, of dress and living habits upon the nation by legislation under decree of a majority expression.

Not only that but the development of this new field of activity presents opportunity for agitation to make a living without work by urging all manner of fool reforms, expenses paid by thoughtless zealots ready to furnish the nucleus of financial support to any fad which strikes their fancy.

Most thinking people believe that, for a while at least, we have gone quite far enough in forcing the individual to conform his mode of living to the standards of others even though by persistent agitation those others may rally to their support a majority of those who care enough about the proposals to vote.

We had better, for a time at least, confine our legislation to real governmental matters. Legislating the height of shoe heels, the length of dresses, the distance one may travel on Sundays and the places he may go seems a little too far fetched to be dignified by even a serious consideration as a governmental problem.

Our Old Friend Again

The tariff has always been a good subject for discussion and generally a safe subject to discuss so long as the office holders and politicians kept lined up properly with the particular desires of their immediate constituency.

For the last thirty years, barring, of course, the war period, the tariff has been the one big topic of debate upon which politicians, no matter what their party allegiance, could ring the charges.

We, all of us, grew weary of hearing tariff discussions and thought we would welcome the time when it would cease to be the one big subject of discussion.

That time came. Tariff laws were upset by the war and the need of tariff passed away with the cessation of commerce.

So many and so complex have been our new problems of war and after-war periods that we welcome the return of the tariff debates as an old friend come back again to cheer us up and comfort us.

No doubt, our tariff laws need readjusting, but the big thing is that politicians and law-makers have a harmless subject to discuss—one which furnishes unlimited opportunity for the orators and keeps them away from dangerous subjects.

Anxious Days For Some

Many holders of stock in some of those many industries which were capitalized, during the war time, on a basis of the swollen business and profits of that stirring time, are now passing anxious hours and days while the principle sum they invested slowly shrinks in size as the air oozes out of the bubble and the stock values descend to a basis in keeping with the real value of the security behind the stock. Instead of a promised big dividend check thousands of holders of stocks in concerns they knew nothing about, stocks purchased on the glib promises of agents who talked of plants so far away from home that an "enchantment" was lent to them would be content now with par and no dividends.

These conditions should teach investors to keep their money at home, in government bonds and out of securities they do not and never will understand.

Had people with money played safe during the prosperous times there would be far less uneasiness now.

POETRY FOR TODAY

THINGS WE LOVE MOST

The little common toys were always best,
The rag doll oftener played with than the wax.
It's not the cost, but the feeling in the breast
With which life makes up all it ever lacks
Through old sincerities of heart that teach
Joy is so near it is not hard to reach.

The lad I played with was a rich man's son,
Pampered and petted, always on the run
For some new treasure wealth alone could buy;
But when he came to my house, only then
With my plain toys seemed happy, all the sky
Bright with its boyhood beauty once again.

The bureau that my little sister had—
That I made for her—good work for a lad—
But plain and cheap—why in the other years
When some one sent her at the Christmas time
A real doll's bureau—rich with rare veneers—
My old rough gift gave her joy sublime.
We love the most the things we gain from love;
Through love bought lovingly to us, and laid Upon us as life lays its rose in May
Upon the branches of beauty and of spring—
The simple, sweet, enduring gifts that made
A spirit in us wake and start to sing.
As on the wind of morning sings the dove
Down some great sweep and majesty of day.

In the office of Secretary of State Thompson on Friday, The Slagle-Coffman Lumber Company, of Washington, was granted a charter to carry on business as a corporation under the laws of Ohio.
L. C. Coffman and others are the incorporators. The new company is the outgrowth of the recent deal by which Greenfield parties acquired an interest in the lumberbusiness of H. G. Coffman and Company on Sycamore and Broadway streets, in this city.

HILLSBORO MAN IS FACING CHARGE

Charles Carroll, well known business resident of Hillsboro, is now facing a charge of assault with intent to kill Ottwa Purdy, another widely known Hillsboro resident. He is out on $2000 bond.

The case is the result of a fight between the two men in which Purdy sustained a broken neck, presumably as result of a kick by Charles Carroll.

Purdy is resting easier at the present time, and there are hopes of his recovery, although the injury is a most dangerous one and it is necessary to keep the injured man's neck in a plaster cast.

CONCERT GIVEN BY MUSKINGUM

Appreciative Audience Greets College Singers and Musicians.

One of the most appreciative audiences before which they have appeared this season greeted the Muskingum College Glee Club at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening. Although one of the smaller schools Muskingum College showed that it possesses unlimited talent in music and that in Professor E. H. Wise one of the ablest directors is found.

The concert was arranged to give the talent of the club full play and the quartet, the string quartet, the piano soloist, Mr. Roland Reid; and the reader, Mr. Robert Moore, delighted the audience with special numbers.

Numbers given by the Glee Club were heartily applauded and the encores were met with the same appreciation.

A vocal duet, "Still as the Night" was given by Messrs. Warren Ferguson and Ray Davis.

The pianist, Mr. Roland Reid, delighted with the numbers, Scherzo in B-flat Minor—Chopin, and Turkish March—Beethoven-Rubinstein.

It was with enjoyment that the reader, Mr. Robert Moore, was heard. He possesses rare ability in expression and his numbers were of pleasing selection. He gave "Jean Deprez" by Robert W. Service, and "An Old Sweetheart" by James Whitcomb Riley.

Mr. Moore is captain of the College basketball team.

Mr. Harold Stroup gave a cello solo, "Evening Star"—Wagner. One of the selections given by the Glee Club that was most cleverly rendered was "Nut Brown Maiden" and came as an encore. "What the Chimney Sang," by the quartet was also well rendered.

Warren Ferguson is manager of the club, Ray Davis leader; Harry B. Chalfant, Librarian; and Robert Patton, Stage manager.

At the chapel period in the high school Thursday afternoon the club gave a short concert before the student body.

The Club was introduced before the

FORTY BOYS ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Two score boys enjoyed a delightful Christmas party at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night in the Boy's club room.

Each boy had been requested to bring a ten cent present and these were hung on the Christmas tree. Then each boy was given ten candy wafers and A. C. Kleister auctioned the presents off. So that one boy did not get more than one present no article was allowed to sell for less than six wafers. No end of fun was created by a series of games. Refreshments were served.

Boy's Secretary Marquis read Henry Vandyke's "Story of the First Christmas Tree."

HARTMAN THEATER COLUMBUS

It is a matter of congratulation that beginning Monday night, December 27, there will be seen at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, Ohio, Arthur Rishman's splendid comedy, "Not So Long Ago," for an engagement of one week. A New Year's week entertainment par excellence, this. It was one of the outstanding hits in New York, playing at both the Booth and the Nora Bayes theatres for many months. More recently it had a long run at the Studebaker in Chicago and comes to Columbus under the auspices of the Messrs. Shubert, with the acclaim of both press and public. The scenes of the comedy—it is not a musical show—is New York "not so long ago" or to be precise, in the early '70's, and is a fascinating comedy of youth, love and romance. The cast is exactly the same in all particulars as that seen during the New York and Chicago engagements and is headed by Eva LeGallienne and Sidney Blackmer. Miss LaGallienne is the daughter of the famous writer and poet, Richard LaGallienne.

The story of "Not So Long Ago" concerns an old inventor and his daughter, Elsie. The girl, to help the family purse, does dressmaking for rich families. She is constantly wooed by a traveling salesman, remarkable in his egotism, while the girl is of a dreamy temperament and vivid imagination. Enter Billy, the scion, of one of the wealthy Knickerbocker families, and the "plot thickens" so to speak. A love story of a particularly romantic and enchanting character ensues. In addition to Miss LaGallienne and Mr. Blackmer, members of the cast include Mary Kennedy, Betty Linley, Alice Bromley Wilson, Leatta Miller, Margaret Mosier, George Henry Trader, B. M. Lewin, Frank Gillespie and others. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday—New Year's day.

WANTS ALLIES NOTIFIED TO PAY PROMPTLY

No Cancellation Will Be Considered, Says Solon.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, December 23.—The allied nations should be advised that the United States will not cancel loans made during the war, Senator McKellar, democrat, Tenn., declared in an address today in the Senate, criticizing Secretary Houstoun of the Treasury Department for alleged failure to take steps for their payment.

Interest on the foreign loans should be paid when due and the allies informal certificates of indebtedness converted into long term bonds, he said. He charged that there was an "insidious propaganda" in favor of cancelling the foreign loans.

COAL AWARDS WILL NOT BE RE-OPENED

(By Associated Press)
Philadelphia, December 23.—Declining to reopen the award of the United States Anthracite coal commission the mine operators here today rejected the demands of the hard coal mine operators for additional wage increase, a minimum of $6 a day labor rate and establishment of a universal eight hour day.

The operators, however, notified the miners' representatives that they stood ready to adjust any "individual cases of inequality that may be due to applications of the commission's award."

The Night Before Christmas

IT WAS the night before Christmas and all through the house

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In the hope that St. Nicholas soon would be there.
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar plums danced through their heads.
And mamma in her kerchief and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter;
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the window and threw up the sash,
The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow,
Gave a lustre of midday to objects below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! Now, Dancer! Now, Prancer! and Vixen!
On, Comet! On Cupid, on Dunder and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!
Now, dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As dry leaves before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the housetops the coursers they flew
With a sleigh full of toys—and St. Nicholas, too;
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof;
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot
And his clothing was all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack;
His eyes, how they twinkled; his dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow!
The stump of a pipe he held in his teeth
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He was chubby and plump—a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then he turned with a jerk
And laying his finger aside of his nose
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle;
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight:
"Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"

HICCUGHS IN NEW YORK CITY ARE EPIDEMIC

(By Associated Press)

New York December 23.—A hiccough epidemic the result of colds now has New York in its grip, druggists said today.

Spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm after a cold characterized by health commissioner Copeland as a "nervous form of influenza"—causes the hiccough and the ailment is believed to have been brought over from Paris where it has been prevalent. The seizures are said to last 24 to 40 hours.

Wonderland Gives Free Matinee to the Kiddies Friday Afternoon as Christmas Treat

Special Christmas attractions have been booked at all the theatres in this city.

At the Wonderland Bessie Hayskawa will be seen in "An Arabian Knight." Across the street at the Colonial Pearl White stars in "The Tiger's Cub," a gorgeous picture of the far north.

Manager Charles B. Johnson had announced a free matinee at the Wonderland Friday afternoon and the youngsters enjoyed their Christmas treat to the utmost.

The Palace Theatre is resplendent in full holiday attire and many stop to view the entrance where a fire place and a huge red chimney are made even more realistic by the use of fire wood, red crepe paper and electric lights.

"U. P. Trail" a picturization of the novel by Zane Grey is Manager J. E. McLean's attraction.

GODDARD SAYS HE WAS THROWING MONEY AWAY

Akron Man Says None of the Medicines He Bought For Wife Helped Her Until She Took Tanlac Health Restored

"I was spending a large part of my salary each month on medicine and treatments for my wife with no apparent results, but it wasn't long after she started on Tanlac until her health was completely restored," said John C. Goddard, of 533 Talbot Avenue, Akron, Ohio, Inspector for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

"For two years my wife suffered from a severe case of stomach trouble, and seemed to have no appetite at all. She would bloat up with gas until she could hardly breathe, and at time would become so dizzy she would almost faint. At night she had terrible smothering spells, so that she could scarcely sleep, and she got in such an awful run-down condition she wasn't able to do her house work.

"I saw a statement in the papers one day about Tanlac that just seemed to fit my wife's case to a 'T', so I got her a bottle, and it wasn't but a day or two until she remarked that she had at last found the very medicine she had been needing all the time. Well sir, it has only taken six bottles to put an end to all her troubles, and she is now enjoying the very best of health. She has actually gained eleven pounds in weight, and is always telling our neighbors what Tanlac has done for her."

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by J. W. Murphy and in Mill-edgeville, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Orman Selden—Advt.

The Washington Postoffice is handling by far the largest amount of mail in its history, and doing it most satisfactorily to all patrons.

Thousands of packages and tens of thousands of Christmas cards and letters are being handled by the corps of busy workers at the Washington post-office.

During the past day or two the office has been piled with packages of all sizes and shapes, and all having very much of a Christmas look. These packages were handled speedily, and others took their places almost as quickly as one avalanche was cleared away.

Rural carriers also are having their hands full, and their machines have been piled with gift packages, incoming and outgoing.

Never before has the Washington Postoffice handled such a large amount of Christmas mail, and at the close of Christmas day Postmaster Rodgers expects to have every piece of Christmas mail delivered that reaches the offices in time for delivery. Also every outgoing piece of mail will have been forwarded, and the office placed in readiness to resume normal business once more.
